Developments

May was a strong month for the financial markets, as the S&P 500 rose 4.76%. Markets were bolstered by progress in containing the Coronavirus and enthusiasm around the re-opening of the economy. After falling to very low levels, most economic data stabilized and showed signs of improvement by month-end. Ongoing aggressive monetary policy and unprecedented fiscal stimulus continued to provide support for the financial markets. During the month, most measures of risk declined further, as credit spreads narrowed and volatility declined (VIX=27.5 at month-end). Interest rates remained relatively stable, with the yield on the 10-Year US Treasury finishing the month at 0.65%.

SSI's Convertible Investment Strategy had a good month, returning approximately +7.38% (gross of fee) and outperforming the ICE BofA All US Convertible Index (VXA0), which rose +6.75%. Year-to-date, the Strategy is now in positive territory (+3.19% gross), while most equity indices are still down substantially (S&P 500 -4.98% / Russell 2000 -15.96%). During the month, all twelve economic sectors were positive, with Technology, Health Care, and Consumer Discretionary making the largest contributions to portfolio returns. Equity sensitive convertibles and balanced securities outperformed bond substitutes. The convertible market remains healthy, with reasonable valuations and high convexity. New issuance was very strong, with $22.7 billion in May, the largest monthly amount ever.

Policies

SSI's policies for valuing portfolios, calculating performance, and preparing compliant presentations are available upon request.

The Composite & Benchmark

The Convertible Investment Strategy (composite created January 1983) is invested in convertible bonds and convertible preferred stocks, and do not have credit quality restrictions. The Strategy may hold 144A securities. The composite contains fully discretionary accounts including those no longer with the firm. SSI believes a performance comparison versus the ICE BofA All Convertibles Index (the "VXA0") is appropriate. The VXA0 measures the return of all U.S. convertibles. SSI does not hold all convertibles in the VXA0 and may also hold convertibles that are not included in the VXA0. The Strategy is less diversified than the VXA0. The volatility of this strategy may be greater than the volatility of the VXA0 as the strategy holds a smaller number of positions than the Index. The return, if any, above the VXA0 is dependent upon SSI's discretionary management. Any other indices shown are not necessarily comparable to SSI's Convertible Investment Strategy. These are widely recognized market indices that are shown for informational purposes only. The composite name was formally known as SSI Outright Discretionary Convertible Strategy from 1/1/1983 – 3/31/2016 and on 4/1/2016 the new composite name became the SSI Convertible Investment Strategy.

Investment Management Fees

Returns are presented gross and net of management fee. Actual results of an individual account may be materially different from the performance shown herein because of differences in inception date, transaction and related costs, investment guideline restrictions, fees and other factors. All performance is based in U.S. dollars and reflect, on a percentage basis for each of the periods indicated: (a) the net increase (decrease) of all SSI Convertible Investment Strategy portfolios, dollar-weighted, including adjustments for unrealized gains and losses, the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings, the deduction of investment costs except any separate custodial or related fees, time-weighted to adjust for additions and withdrawals, and (b) the net increase (decrease) of the VXA0.

Net performance is reduced by SSI's actual investment management fees. Gross performance does not include deduction of SSI's investment management fees.

If performance is gross of management fees, client's actual return will be reduced by the management fees and any other expenses which may be incurred in the management of an investment advisory account. See SSI's Form ADV, Part 2A for a complete description of the investment advisory fees customarily charged by SSI. As an example, an account with an initial $1,000,000 investment on January 1, 2003, earning a recurring 5% semi-annual gross return (10.25% annualized), and paying a .5% semi-annual management fee (1% annual fee) would have grown to $1,340,096 on a gross of fees basis and $1,300,392 on a net of fees basis by December 31, 2005 (3 years).

Policies

SSI's policies for valuing portfolios, calculating performance, and preparing compliant presentations are available upon request.

The Composite & Benchmark

The SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy began January 1, 1999 while the composite was created September 1, 2013 when SSI modified its Investment Grade composite by adding two more Investment Grade composites to properly address the clients varying investment guidelines. Accounts are now in a composite that reflects their investment guidelines. The SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy invests in investment grade and up to 25% non-investment grade convertible securities, and may include 144A securities. The composite contains fully discretionary accounts including those no longer with the firm. The composite may include accounts invested in investment grade convertible preferred shares up to generally 25% of the portfolio. SSI believes a performance comparison versus the ICE Bof Investment Grade Convertible Bond Index ("VOS1") is appropriate. The VOS1 measures all Investment Grade US Convertible bonds (as stated by ICE BofA). SSI may not hold all convertibles in the VOS1 and may also hold convertibles that are not included in the VOS1. The Strategy may be less diversified than the VOS1. The volatility of this strategy may be greater than the volatility of the VOS1 as the strategy may hold a smaller number of positions than the Index, may include investment grade convertible preferred securities, and non-investment grade convertible securities. The return, if any, above the VOS1 is dependent upon SSI's discretionary management. Any other indices shown are not necessarily comparable to SSI's Investment Grade Convertible Strategy. These are widely recognized market indices that are shown for informational purposes only. The composite name was formally known as SSI Outright Investment Grade Convertible Strategy from 1/1/1999 – 3/31/2016 and on 4/1/2016 the new composite name became the SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy.

Investment Management Fees

Returns are presented gross and net of management fee. Actual results of an individual account may be materially different from the performance shown herein because of differences in inception date, transaction and related costs, investment guideline restrictions, fees and other factors. All performance is based in U.S. dollars and reflect, on a percentage basis for each of the periods indicated: (a) the net increase (decrease) of all SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy portfolios, dollar-weighted, including adjustments for unrealized gains and losses, the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings, the deduction of investment costs except any separate custodial or related fees, time-weighted to adjust for additions and withdrawals, and (b) the net increase (decrease) of the VOS1.

Net performance is reduced by SSI's actual investment management fees and model fees (2015-2019). 1% annual fee is used for any model fees. Gross performance does not include deduction of SSI's investment management fees.

If performance is gross of management fees, client's actual return will be reduced by the management fees and any other expenses which may be incurred in the management of an investment advisory account. See SSI's Form ADV, Part 2A for a complete description of the investment advisory fees customarily charged by SSI. As an example, an account with an initial $1,000,000 investment on January 1, 2003, earning a recurring 5% semi-annual gross return (10.25% annualized), and paying a .5% semi-annual management fee (1% annual fee) would have grown to $1,340,096 on a gross of fees basis and $1,300,392 on a net of fees basis by December 31, 2005 (3 years).
