Market Update

The S&P 500 declined 9.22% in September, as most major equity indices re-tested their lows for the year. The weakness was prompted by stubbornly high inflation and an aggressively hawkish Fed. This led to a spike in interest rates and growing concern among investors about a hard landing (deeper recession). During the month, the yield on 2-Year and 10-Year US Treasuries both rose over 50 basis points to 4.22% and 3.83%, respectively. This, combined with wider credit spreads, resulted in a 4.32% decline in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Within the convertible market, Health Care held up better than the other sectors, while Energy posted the largest declines.

SSI's Investment Grade Convertible Strategy declined approximately 8.11% (gross of fee), trailing the ICE BofA Investment Grade US Convertible Bond ex-Mandatory & Preferred Index (V0S1), which fell 7.43%. The investment grade portion of the convertible market has a significant weight in Energy, which contributed to the drawdown during September. Returns relative to the index were held back by weakness in some of the differentiated positions. The Strategy continues to hold bonds from a wide range of economic sectors and is significantly overweight balanced convertibles, which offer an attractive risk / return profile. With many bonds trading near par, the convertible asset class continues to offer an attractive combination of upside participation and the potential for downside protection. New issuance during September was a healthy $4.6 Billion, which brings the year-to-date total to $20.0 Billion.

The Composite & Benchmark (Description & Material Risks)

The SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy (composite inception date January 1, 1999; composite created September 1, 2013) was created when SSI modified its Investment Grade composite by adding two more Investment Grade composites to properly address the clients varying investment guidelines. Accounts are now in a composite that reflects their investment guidelines. The SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy invests in investment grade and up to 25% non-investment grade convertible securities, and may include 144A securities. The composite contains fully discretionary accounts including those no longer with the firm. The composite may include accounts invested in investment grade convertible preferred shares up to generally 25% of the portfolio. SSI believes a performance comparison versus the ICE BofA Investment Grade US Convertible Bond ex-Mandatory & Preferred Index ("VOS1") is appropriate. The VOS1 measures all Investment Grade US Convertible bonds (as stated by ICE BofA). SSI may not hold all convertibles in the VOS1 and may also hold convertibles that are not included in the VOS1. The Strategy may be less diversified than the VOS1. The volatility of this strategy may be greater than the volatility of the VOS1 as the strategy may hold a smaller number of positions than the Index, may include investment grade convertible preferred securities, and non-investment grade convertible securities. The return, if any, above the VOS1 is dependent upon SSI's discretionary management. Any other indices shown are not necessarily comparable to SSI's Investment Grade Convertible Strategy. These are widely recognized market indices that are shown for informational purposes only. The composite name was formally known as SSI Outright Investment Grade Convertible Strategy from 1/1/1999 – 3/31/2016 and on 4/1/2016 the new composite name became the SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy.

Use of Leverage, Derivatives, and Shorts

The strategy may invest in synthetic convertible bonds and convertible preferred securities. Synthetic convertible securities are generally issued through an investment bank and may provide exposure to the credit of the bank while being linked to the equity upside of an entity we select, that is generally not connected with the bank. The synthetic convertible securities we employ do not generally involve the use of leverage and generally do not provide leveraged exposure.

Investment Management Fees

Returns are presented gross and/or net of management fee. Actual results of an individual account may be materially different from the performance shown herein because of differences in inception date, transaction and related costs, investment guideline restrictions, fees and other factors. All performance is based in U.S. dollars and reflect, on a percentage basis for each of the periods indicated: (a) the net increase (decrease) of all SSI Investment Grade Convertible Strategy portfolios, asset-weighted, including adjustments for unrealized gains and losses, the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings, the deduction of investment costs except any separate custodial or related fees, time-weighted to adjust for additions and withdrawals, and (b) the net increase (decrease) of the VOS1.

Net performance for fee paying portfolios is reduced by SSI's actual investment management fees and non-fee paying portfolios are reduced by a 1% annual model fee (2015-2020). Model fees are deducted on a monthly basis. Gross performance does not include deduction of SSI's investment management fees.

If performance is gross of management fees, client's actual return will be reduced by the management fees and any other expenses which may be incurred in the management of an investment advisory account. See SSI's Form ADV, Part 2A for a complete description of the investment advisory fees customarily charged by SSI. As an example, an account with an initial $1,000,000 investment on January 1, 2022, earning a recurring 5% semi-annual gross return (10.25% annualized), and paying a .5% semi-annual management fee (1% annual fee) would have grown to $1,340,096 on a gross of fees basis and $1,300,392 on a net of fees basis by December 31, 2024 (3 years).
